MADE GAY WITH UNIFORMS

Miss Fuger and Lieut. Cusack Wed at St. Deminic's.

Other Pretty Ceremonies Which Bore Out the Marriage Proverb of Wednesday.

There is no more brilliant function than military weilding with the gleam of gold braid and gay colored uniforms. Last evening one of the prettiest affairs of the sort that has ever occurred in Washington took place when Miss Elanche Helem Fuger was married to Lieut Joseph

E. Cusack, Fifth Cavalry.

The ceremony was solerunized at St.

Dominic's Church, Sixth street southwest, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father Kent officiat-ing. The chancel was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysauthemums and the wearing marches were rendered dur-ing the entrance and on the departure of the bridal procession Lieut. Frederick Pager, Thirteenth Infantry, now sta-tioned at Governor's Island, New York, acted as best man Lieut, Alexander and Lieut, King, Fourth Artillery; Lieut, Stout and Lieut, Short, Sixth Cavalry, served as ushers. Miss Alice Figer, maid of honor, was Miss Alice Feger, maid of honor, was charmingly costumed in white alls, trimmed with incandescent passementerie, and carried with early sandtemans. The lovely bride, who entered exorted by her father, Capt. Frederick Fuger, wore a gown of white faille, on traine, face trimmed and ornamented with orange blossoms. Her talle veil was fastened to her cofffere with a moray of amorporities designed of pearls. a spray of margocrites designed of pearls, the gift of a dear friend. She carried lilies of the valley.

Misses Marguerite Fuger and Mabei Puna, in gowns of yellow satin, and carrying clusters of gold colored chrysanthennum, acted as bridesmatis, their chosen color being in compliment to the cavalry.

A reception followed at the attractive quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Fuger at the arsenal. The rooms were decked with yellow, red and white roses, in honor of the cavalry, artii ery and infantry. Pahns were grouped effectively in one corner of the drawing-room, where a handsome Japanese screen made a background for the young couple as they stood to receive the young couple as they stood to receive the congratulations of their friends. The porch was enclosed in bunting and flags and innerns were disposed artistically about the walls.

The Fourth Artiflery Band discoursed bright music, and later the roung people en-joyed dancing. Over a hundred guests took part in the reception, and were enter-tained at a collation, drinking toasts to the newly wedded pair. Later Mr. and Mrs. Cusack left for Atanth and will visit San Antonio, the head-parters of the regiment in which Licut. Carack is serving, before making their home at Fort McIntosa, Texas, where he is sta-tioned at present.

An interesting fact, is that the salre worm

by the groom was presented by his troop, upon his promotion, evidencing his extreme opularity.

Over a bundrest costly gifts were received, needing a handsome watch, from the

The Marquis de Chambran whose marriage to Miss Nichols, step-daughter of Hon. Bellamy Storer, is the next international social event, spent yesterday afternoon visiting his friend, Dr. Orban, of the Cathohe University. The marquis was accompanied by his mother, the Marquise de Chambran, and his cousin, Baron de Chiedine, both of whem arrived in this country a few Cars ago, in order to assist country a few days ago, in order to assist the wedding.

The baron will act as best man. The party left this evening for Cincinnati, where the bride-elect is now staying with her mother. Mrs. Bellamy Storer.

Marquis de Obambrun is weil known in Washington through his legal connection with the French legallon. He is besides washington through his legal connection with the French legation. He is, besides being of old and renowned ancestry, a courtly, scholarly gentleman, whose friends are legion.

Miss Nichols was familiarly known in society here for several winters and in the princely entertainments given by her nother, she was always an indispensable addinger and a charming young bostess. djunct and a charming young hostess. Both bride and groom that figure in this interesting event are Catholies, and the ceremony will-secur in Cincinnati, in the Church of, St. Finneis Xavier, and will probably be performed by Archbishop Elder, of Cincinnati, assisted by several prominent Jesuit fathers who are in charge of the church in other gayeties of the metropolis.

Sincere regret is felt socially at the rumo which comes from Mexico that Mr. Ed-mundo Piaza, who has for a number of years been connected with the Mexican Legation in this city, is to be transferred to Japan. Mr. Plaza will, it is said, be appointed secretary at Yokohama, and will leave early in Recember for his new next. eave early in December for his new post.

Remor says further that he will not go alone, but be accompanied by his promised bride, Miss Rogers of Fittsburg, the wed-ding to take place within a few weeks. Mr. Plaza is one of the greatest favorites cially who has ever done diplomatic duty ere, and is highly regarded among those chest in the career he has chosen. He was ive years in Paris and has been here six five years in Paris and has been here six years and a half, the length of his stay adding always to the esteem in which he is held.

Mr. Plaza comesof a distinguished family, his father being the celebrated Mexican poet of that name.

Miss Sylvia Deland Fowler of No. 1602 K street, after spending the summer in Europe, is again in the city.

Miss Elizateth Francis Morgan and Mr James William Flack, Jr., were married last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Church of the Covenant, Connecticut avenue. The chancel was massed with white chrysanthemunis and palms, and the ceremony perthemains and palms, and the ceremony per-formed by Rev. Joseph T. Kelly of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Dr. Hammond.

Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" preluded the weddings march, which announced the presence of the bridal party. The ushers were Messrs. Perry and Ridgway of Ed-tinoce. McChessey. Fates and Miles of were Messes. Ferry and Ringway of Latimore, McChesney, Entes and Miller of Washington. Mr. Craule of Faltimore was best man. Preceding the bride, Miss Pelle Morgan, her young sister, came as maid of honor, gowned in white silk mult over rose color, and prettily trimined with rose colored satin ribbons and carrying a great houghet of white curyanthemoms.

The bride, accompanied by her father, were a superb gown of pearl white sather and a very full veit of taile. Her bouquet was of fhies of the valley and white orchids.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of Mr. Morgan, No. 1330 Vermont avenue, at which nearly two hundred friends were present. The drawing rooms were a bower of flowers and vines, and in the dining-room the table was decounted with whitechrysauthemams, whichwers thed the bride cake, and the glittering candelabra expect with silver shides.
